Incubator Scheme 2012

Details on the Scheme & How to Book

Deen City Farm is a Community Project supported by the London Borough of Merton

London Borough of Merton
a great place to live, work and learn

Deen City Farm's Incubator Scheme is an enormously popular and valuable educational experience.

Few children (and adults!) have the opportunity to witness the wonder of an egg hatching into a tiny, fluffy chick or duckling. It is a fascinating and moving experience.

From an educational point of view, it allows children to see how a chick breaks out of the shell using its egg tooth. The children can observe at very close range the hatchlings own specialised way of feeding and moving. It also teaches children that eggs have a purpose other than for eating!

Whether the Incubator Scheme is used solely as an absorbing visual experience for very young children, or an exciting educational tool for older children, it is something they are unlikely to forget.

When booking, you are sent a copy of this leaflet and must notify the Farm that you acknowledge the terms and conditions therein by signing below and sending a copy of the leaflet to the Farm.

Deen City Farm will supply:

- Incubator
- Fertile chicken or duck eggs*
- Food, bedding and a water bowl
- A brood hutch with a heat lamp
- Step by step instructions
- Ideas for worksheets
- Trouble-shooting advice

*We will do our best to supply the type of eggs requested by individual schools, but it is rare that we can supply anything other than chicken eggs.

Under normal circumstances, only about 30% of fertilised chicken or duck eggs hatch. Our laying flock is restocked each year and this should ensure the highest possible hatching success rate.

If it is agreed that, through no fault of the hirer, no hatches take place, Deen City Farm will take whatever appropriate remedial action it can. Unfortunately, we are unable to do this if the fault has been caused by the organisation.

The Farm has only 8 incubators per phase, so please book early!

(We receive an Annual Grant from the London Borough of Merton. Therefore, groups within Merton book from 4th October 2011 and those outside from 1st November 2011)

Deen City Farm's Incubator Scheme runs in three phases:

Phase 1

21st February—20th March
(Spring half-term to Easter holidays)

Phase 2

17th April—15th May
(Easter holidays to Summer half-term)

Phase 3

12th June—10th July
(Summer half-term to Summer holidays)

Precise dates within these phases will be set closer to the time. Whilst the Farm will try to deliver on a day and time agreed with the school, we cannot guarantee to do so. Final decisions are made by Deen City Farm.

We will collect the chicks four weeks after the date the equipment is delivered to the school. This means that you will care for the live chicks for one week!
