

Wandle Rain Gardens

London Wildlife Trust is working with communities along the River Wandle to create new ways of saving and using rain water where it falls, helping to prevent localised flooding and making new habitats for wildlife

At Deen City Farm we will be:

Creating a wildlife friendly 'raingarden' near the main entrance

Helping the farm reduce its water bills by fitting guttering and storage tanks

Reducing rainwater runoff to help prevent flooding at times of heavy rainfall

We'd love you to get involved! We are looking for volunteers to help dig out and plant up the new rain garden at the end of March 2017. To find out more please contact Joanna at jecclestone@wildlondon.org.uk

or on 07891 004154

Living Wandle
Landscape Partnership

